

Theta Chi Topical Musings: Community

2023 Summer

As I think of Community, I must first define it: Dictionary.com defines a community as “a social group of any size whose members reside in a specific locality, share government, and often have a common cultural and historical heritage.”

We are all a part of many communities, and we all serve multiple constituents. Dictionary.com defines a constituent as “an element, material, etc. that is part of something else; component.”

Our Theta Chi community at Purdue is also part of a larger Theta Chi International organization; Alpha Delta members are also part of the greater Lafayette community, the Purdue community, and many others.

As individuals and members of these communities, we must take into account the desires of the constituents and related components including parents, alumni, other students, etc.

It is with this greater sense of community and service that a newer, more inclusive, and more interactive website and communications platform is being created for all Alpha Delta Theta Chi... and our constituents.

Community needs involvement! Community needs communication! Community has history! Community shares! We hope our improving platform helps provide a platform for greater Community!

Thank You for Reading and Listening to My Musing!!
